→ How Do I Choose a Package?

The best way to judge how much space you want is to find the total being used by the hard drives you wish to backup, then add about 10% on-top of that to account for changes in file size and/or any additional files you may need in the near future. The R1Soft Agent does support a variety of compression methods, but the amount of space you will be able to compress varies by system. You could see up to a 35% savings in disk space, by using the highest compression. If during your first month you would like to try out the compression levels, we can work with you during the first month.

→ What If I Run Out of Space?

We are very lenient on disk space for our R1Soft customers. Should you get close to your quota hit your quota, we will gladly extend your quota in order to accommodate your immediate backups.

→ Do You Offer Dedicated Servers with R1Soft's CDP Server?

Yes, we offer servers ranging from 500 GB and up. Please contact our sales department for an exact quote.
