➔ How Do I Choose a Package?

The best way to judge how much space you want is to find the total space the files you wish to backup take up, then add about 10% to 20% on-top of that to account for changes in file size and/or any additional files you may need in the near future. All accounts can be upgraded at any time by upgrading to the next level or adding additional plans.

➔ What If I Run Out of Space?

We do not put a hard limit on any of our user's quota. This means that you are allowed to go over on your quota for a short period of time. At that time, we will contact users that are over on their quota and discuss their options.

➔ What Do We Support?

Our servers support rsync, SSH, FTP, and Samaba mounts. Linux, Windows, and Mac OS X friendly!
